TREVOR CLOUGH
DIGBY'S CEO & HEAD BLENDER

"It is a deep honour to work with the House of Commons to show our nation's sparkling wine to the world. I declare a vintage for our flagship style when the Chardonnay shows taut power and the structure for long ageing. Pristine yet sophisticated, the 2013 rendition of Digby's flagship combines the energy and style of all special vintages with 2013's unique concentration. This wine's chalky confidence is supported by deep levels of richness from the Pinots on the lingering finish.

To green and pleasant!"

House of Commons

The UK public elects 650 Members of Parliament (MPs) to represent their interests and concerns in the House of Commons. MPs consider and propose new laws and can scrutinise Government policies by asking Ministers questions about current issues in their Commons Chamber or in committees.

Digby achieves its fine quality through the refined art of blending. The grapes are grown in the chalky soil of Kent, Sussex and Hampshire by its world-class vineyard partners. Digby was inspired by the extraordinary Sir Kenelm Digby, a 17th Century philosopher, pirate, scientist and inventor of the modern wine bottle.
