OUR STORY

Inspired by the extraordinary life of the 17th Century philosopher, theologian, writer, pirate, inventor and 'father of the modern wine bottle', Sir Kenelm Digby, DIGBY FINE ENGLISH is a wine of distinctively English character.....Our ambition is to make some of the best sparkling wine in the world.

For our founders, Trevor Clough and Jason Humphries, it all started with a trip to the American West to escape the corporate daily working grind in London. On the driveway of a sparkling winery south of Seattle, Washington, U.S., surrounded by sweeping rows of vines they agreed a shared vision that quality English fizz deserved worldwide acclaim and set goals to bring this inimitably English form of sippable luxury to discerning, adventurous customers in all of the world's coolest cities.

After much tasting and travelling across the South East of England we have identified and built relationships with the top 1% of English vineyards to allow DIGBY to become unique as the first English sparkling wine blending house or 'negociant' in this country.

A tremendous amount of love, care and thought goes into our winemaking which gives you balanced, elegant and complex wine that is distinctive, with a confident and unique expression that stays true to its origins and has personality and pizzazz.

We are also committed to the environment and this is embodied in the closing lines of 'The Digby Toast' and replicated on every bottle we sell: To Green and Pleasant, To England. We have scrutinised the grape to glass environmental consequences of every bottle of Digby sold. We are proud to say that from 2020 every bottle sold is Net Zero from a carbon emissions perspective.

Digby Fine English launched its first wines in 2013, won its first trophy in 2014 and has gone on to great adventures around the world since. Digby Fine English can be found in Selfridges, Harvey Nichols, Fortnum & Mason and Waitrose and of course in our West Sussex Tasting Room in Arundel and at www.digby-fine-english.com
